

SPANISH GOV'T TAKES STEPS TO PROTECT MADRID

Rebel Leader Predicts Fall Of Capital This Week

Madrid, July 28.—(P)—The Spanish government tonight announced that it had taken steps to protect the city of Madrid.

Gen. Emilio Mola, northern commander of the rebels, predicted a military dictatorship when he took "Madrid by Thursday or Friday."

In continuous fighting in three sectors both sides claimed victory.

The official government radio declared progress was made by troops throughout the provinces, particularly in the Zaragoza, Cordoba and Seville fronts.

All soldiers belonging to the classes of 1934 and 1935 in the provinces of Madrid, Ciudad Real, Toledo, Guadalajara and Cuenca, who now are on leave, were ordered to report immediately for duty, except in cases of illness.

The government announced the last rebel nest in Loyola barracks at San Sebastian had surrendered. All military stores in the barracks including artillery and engineering equipment were taken over by the Loyalists.

The historic cathedral in Alcalá de Henares was destroyed in battle with large quantities of arms and ammunition within the edifice, where rebels took refuge, exploded.

Only the walls of the cathedral remain. The rich decorations within were reduced to ashes.

At Guadalajara several important buildings bore the marks of conflict, some of which were irreparable.

In continued attacks on the Guadalajara mountain passes, the government asserted it had destroyed vast stores of rebel ammunition. This coupled with asserted desertions from rebel ranks, would severely cripple the revolt, leftist contended.

Preparing to deal with the fascists, the Madrid government ordered all rebellious naval and civil guard officers removed by decree.

Another decree announced confiscation of all buildings belonging to religious orders and the Catholic church in general within five days—enforcement of a constitutional provision.

General Mola, supporting his prediction of an approaching siege at Madrid, said his forces had gained control of water mains in the Guadalajara supplying the capital.

(This powerful weapon, he added, had not yet been used. There were other reports, however, that rebels were shutting off the mains at intervals to irritate residents barricaded in the capital.

"Confident he will be victorious, General Mola said his projected dictatorship will embrace an army to match any in all Europe. There was no intent, he said, to restore a monarchy."

Guarantee Protection Of Foreigners In Spain; Many Americans Still Marooned

Tells of Narrow Murder Escape

Dorothy Hoeppner (above) of Brooklyn, N. Y., reported to police a narrow escape from murder by a Spanish soldier in the city of Madrid.

Washington, July 28.—(P)—A new demand for the protection of life and property of Americans and other foreign residents of Madrid was made on the Spanish government today by the diplomatic corps.

Notifying the state department of this, Eric C. Wendelin, third secretary in charge of the embassy at Madrid, said the demand was met immediately by formal guarantees that protection would be accorded all foreigners and that diplomatic missions would be permitted to communicate with their governments by all available means.

The assurances from the Spanish government were received as efforts were being rushed to rescue several score Americans reported still marooned in the revolution-menaced capital.

Other information that many Americans were still in the threatened Spanish capital reached the state department simultaneously with an official report that they would be evacuated Thursday.

The burning of churches and "uncontrolled robbery and murder" were said by consular officials to be continuing at Barcelona, but the state department was advised that so far no Americans had been listed as missing or injured there.

As a precautionary measure, American Consul Lynn W. Franklin said he had inaugurated twice daily radio broadcasts for information regarding the whereabouts and welfare of American citizens. He described the broadcasts as "very effective" but gave no details.

British Infantry And Planes Drive Off Arab Snipers

Troops Enter Hills In Effort To Dislodge Group Of Terrorists

Jerusalem, July 28.—(P)—Arab terrorists, 20 of their number reported slain, retreated into the hills of Nablus tonight before British infantry and war planes.

Christopher Wren, British constable, was killed in the fighting which marked the severest battle since beginning of the Arab general strike against Jewish immigration 101 days ago.

More than 200 Arabs were in the band, which gained in numbers as fighting progressed higher into the hills with their almost impenetrable hiding places.

Only a small number comprised the band which engaged police in the initial brush today in which Constable Wren was killed. Three Arabs were killed in this thrust.

When troops, with tanks and armored cars, entered the fray the Arabs retreated slowly and their force increased. British planes, aiding the counter attack, dropped bombs and hand grenades, and sprayed machine gun fire on the caves in which Arabs took refuge.

Police tonight blocked off surrounding areas as troops moved in to the hills in an effort to dislodge the terrorists.

The Arabs force was regarded as the first reported organized under new campaign tactics—a switch from sniping and nightly marauding of Jewish colonies to more direct opposition to British soldiers and police.

TROPICAL STORM MISSES FLORIDA RESORT REGION

Miami Boarded Up In Preparation For Gale

Miami, Fla., July 28.—(P)—A tropical storm moved across Florida's extreme southern tip tonight, leaving the east coast resort belt unscathed.

A utility lineman was burned fatally at Miami during preparations for the storm that crossed the Gulf stream from British Bahamas, but up to 9 p. m. the highest wind here was the 37 miles an hour recorded at 8:30 p. m.

The disturbance, bringing winds of near hurricane force to isolated lighthouses off the coast and sparsely settled Key Largo, 40 miles south of here, was said by the weather bureau to be moving west northward across the flat lands of Florida's tip, some 60 miles south of Miami.

Meteorologist George E. Dunn said the central part of the storm first reached the coast line at 7:30 p. m. He estimated the top wind velocity at 60 miles an hour. At 8:15 p. m. he said the center of the disturbance would move into the Gulf of Mexico considerably south of Fort Myers.

A 9:20 p. m. report from the telephone at Key Largo, first of the long chain of Coral Isles dropping from the Florida mainland, indicated the storm center then was over the island, as the wind had dropped to 10 miles an hour from 60.

Earlier tonight, Miami abandoned plans for celebration of its 40th anniversary, turning to boarding up the city.

Storm warnings were out from Fort Pierce on the Atlantic coast to Punta Gorda on the Gulf of Mexico.

SIX INCH GUN EXPLODES ON NAVY CRUISER

Six Sailors Killed And Nine Injured During Practice

San Diego, Calif., July 28.—(P)—Two sailors were killed and nine others injured in a broadside six-inch gun explosion aboard the U. S. S. Marblehead, light cruiser, at sea off southern California today, in gunnery exercises.

The dead and injured were rushed to port, arriving here tonight.

The dead were Percy William Cofer, boatswain's mate second class, and Leo Steve Moranda, seaman, second class.

Injuries suffered by James Edwin Benedict, Jr., seaman, second class, caused amputation of his right arm. He and Robert William Ople, seaman, first class, were among the most seriously injured.

Officially, officers of the Marblehead made no comment beyond the statement the men were injured in a gun explosion. A board of investigation will meet on the Marblehead at 9 a. m. tomorrow.

It was learned unofficially the breach block and fragments of the rifle tubing of the port broadside gun were blown out, the fragments and burning powder turning the inside of the single gun housing into a welter of dead and injured sailors.

Science Offers Drought-Stricken Farmers New Hope

Tell Of Converting Half-Burned Crops Into Superior Fodder

Ithaca, N. Y., July 28.—(P)—Science today offered the drought stricken midwest an immediately practical relief, a new sweet pickle method of converting half-burned crops into superior fodder.

"Sweet pickles" for cows, horses and sheep equal in food value to sauerkraut, and superior to some of the best fodders, is made by adding strychnine phosphoric acid to high protein crops.

The new method was announced at Cornell University. It has been thoroughly tried out in 1,000 silos, both at the university and on private farms. It was developed by Dr. J. K. Wilson, professor of bacteriology in the department of agronomy.

The announcement says that the acid can be added in silos at a cost of 50 to 75 cents a ton of fodder. Even the most burnt crops in the high protein class, it is declared, can be preserved so that they will furnish all-year green fodder.

"Grass cuttings only a few inches high, too small in most cases for forage, have been converted into a palatable and highly nutritive food."

The "high protein" crops particularly responsive to the new treatment include alfalfa, red or alsike clover, sweet clover and soy beans.

Brooks Calls Ill. A Pivotal State

Describes Swing To GOP Standard In State

Salem, Ill., July 28.—(P)—Describing Illinois as a pivotal state in the November election, C. Wayland Brooks, Republican candidate for governor, today predicted victory for his party.

"Since the Cleveland convention there has been a constant march toward Republican standard in Illinois that will make certain a Republican victory in the state and nation," he said in a speech before more than 5,000 persons at the Republican day program of the Marion County Soldiers' and Sailors' Convention.

"Democrats everywhere," he asserted, "are pleading their assistance, believing this is not a fight between traditional Democrats and Republicans, but rather a fight for preservation of the American form of government against dangerous centralization of governmental powers."

Six Democratic Governors Express Disappointment in Landon's Acceptance Speech

New York, July 28.—(P)—Six Democratic governors tonight joined in a reply to Governor Alf M. Landon's acceptance speech, terming it "vague," "indefinite," and "disappointing."

Speaking from their home states in a nation-wide broadcast sponsored by the Democratic national committee, each of the governors analyzed a different section of the speech and gave what they said was the reaction in their states.

Those who spoke were George H. Earle of Pennsylvania, Theodore F. Green of Rhode Island, Henry Horner of Illinois, Charles H. Martin of Oregon, R. L. Cochran of Nebraska and Clyde L. Herring of Iowa.

Governor Earle, speaking from Philadelphia, said the people of Pennsylvania were "bitterly disappointed" after hearing the speech because of its "vague, far-reaching, indefinite generalities."

He declared that Governor Landon's nearest "approach to a declaration of policy on any issue is his acceptance of the company union, the most powerful weapon against the rights of labor ever invented."

In Chicago, Governor Horner said: "The middle west is frankly disappointed in that speech. He had been pictured to us by his sponsors as a 'strong silent man.' From such a man we naturally expected frank discussion of the issues. We found that he was indeed a 'silent man,' silent on the issues of the campaign and even more silent as to the policies he intended to carry out."

He spoke at length on Landon's promise to restore government "on a constitutional basis, declaring: "If the sponsoring of a measure, later declared unconstitutional by the supreme court, is to be construed as an endorsement of the constitution, neither Governor Landon nor the party that he represents can be considered as supporters of the constitution."

Governor Green, speaking at Providence, said "the more definite" Landon became "the more confused he seemed."

"He steered shy of the tariff," Green said. "He made a wide detour around the utilities question. He didn't mention stock market regulation. He breathed never a word about banking legislation or a public works program, or specific labor legislation."

"You and I have a stake in all these issues. Governor Landon chose to ignore them. We know that the governor likes to ride horseback; that he loves his family; that he works in his shirt sleeves. But that's just about all we do know about him."

Governor Martin, at Portland, said the people of Oregon "see no reason for substituting something else for the New Deal" and that if Governor Landon "thinks we should, it is up to him to convince us."

"But I must confess," he added, "there was nothing in his talk of last Thursday to give our citizenry the slightest reason for turning its back upon the present administration at Washington."

In Omaha, Governor Cochran compared the Republican nominee's fiscal record in Kansas to his own in Nebraska, declaring that "Kansas has been far from a self sustained state during the administration of Governor Landon."

"We find that Kansas, though twenty-fourth among all our states in population," he said, "is fifteenth among the states in the amount of help received from the federal government."

"I do not see anything in Governor Landon's record in the state of Kansas to give cheer to the taxpayers."

Governor Herring, speaking at Des Moines, criticized Governor Landon's farm program as "vague" and declared that he "promises, if elected, to do about half as much for the farmer as the New Deal has already done."

"The New Deal program has given us a fair break," he said. "It has placed the farm producer upon an equality with the producers of other sections and that is all we ask."

"We have performance, not promises, and we decline to be deterred down the side roads of political promises."

COUNCIL REPORT SHOWS DROP IN HIGHWAY DEATHS

500 Fewer Killed In First Six Months Than In '35

Chicago, July 28.—(P)—The first six months of 1936 added 13,350 fatalities to America's long list of highway death, 500 fewer and three per cent less than the corresponding 1935 figure, the National Safety Council reported today.

Despite the fact motor accident deaths last month reached a high point for the year, the council leading a five year campaign to reduce mortalities 35 per cent held the outlook was "anything but discouraging."

"Actually there has been a large increase in travel this year," said Sidney J. Williams, director of the council's public safety division, "a thing we did not anticipate when the objective of the five year campaign—to save 38,000 lives—was announced."

"Gasoline consumption is up approximately 8 per cent. Thus while the number of accident deaths decreased only three per cent to July 1, the death rate in terms of travel decreased 11 per cent, which is very gratifying."

The council's figures showed that June motor deaths numbered 3,520, an increase of 140 and a jump of five per cent from the June, 1935, total.

May produced a six per cent rise in fatalities, most of the improvement for 1936 having come in the first three months.

But cities showed both a six month and a June reduction in deaths. For the half year period the decline was 9 per cent from last year and for June 2 per cent. The council said that urban areas from 25,000 to 250,000 population recorded a 25 per cent decrease in fatalities from June, 1935.

New York City's six months total of 339 deaths was 86 under its toll for the same period last year, the best showing for the large cities. Chicago was the only one in the group of more than 500,000 population to register an increased death total. Its aggregate this year was 367, one more than the same period last year.

Modern Surgery

Science exerted the newest and best medical knowledge at its disposal to save the life of the Carrollton two year old child who died from the effects of swallowing an open safety pin, but was forced to defeat when peritonitis developed.

For a time it was thought throat trouble brought on pneumonia. An X-ray picture showed the safety pin.
After a hurried ambulance trip to a St. Louis hospital, surgeons removed the object from the lung in three minutes.

In this case, the condition had gone past the point of reasonable chance for recovery, but the marvel of modern surgery remains as an example.

No remote ailment or difficult operation is too complex for the solution of our trained experts. Diagnosis is swift and treatment effective.

The family has cause to mourn the death of this child, but other parents can be thankful that any like occurrence has a valuable precedent for the future.

Billed to Drought

A reader of the Journal-Courier has submitted his estimate of the drought cost to the Morgan county farmer. The corn was seeded under favorable conditions and began its growth with the forecast of a bumper crop.

Now, few experts will hold forth more than a hope for a 50 per cent crop, providing rains fall within the next few days. Many are watching fields parch into total losses.

This man's bill for dry weather damage on corn is $1,400,000 in Morgan county alone. Add to this a failure of gardens and possible damage to the blossoms of soy beans, the crop losses in the preceding two years—and the farmer possesses a disheartening outlook indeed.

It is small comfort to point out that government aid will enable him to exist, to describe the even more pitiful situation of residents in the "Dust Bowl."

The prosperity of America cannot rise above the condition of the source of all productive activity, the land.
We have gone through a long period of drought, low prices and discouraging progress in both country and city.
One great hope remains—that a new day of recovery, of better weather and livable conditions is on the way. It is characteristic of Americans to fight ahead to a better future and take advantage of its benefits.

A Coincidence

Last Friday an article in the local papers gave the facts on the workings in Morgan county of the Old Age Assistance Bureau of the State Department of Public Welfare. At that time only twenty-eight out of the 1-150 persons who applied for aid here were receiving checks from the State government.

Within three days after that article appeared the number of persons whose applications had been approved by the Springfield office was increased to three hundred and three, and the Old Age Payroll for Morgan county jumped to $3,942.00 a month.
Whether the State officials were prompted to speed up their work by the reminder in the press that not many here were getting any benefit from the Old Age Assistance Law, or whether it just fell Morgan county's turn to get a break, we do not know; we do not care. All that is important is that those aged persons who are deserving of aid get their share of the amount that has been appropriated by the Illinois Legislature for the purpose.

The delay in approving the many applications that have been piling up in Springfield is quite excusable when one considers the magnitude of the undertaking. It takes a long time to get an efficient administrative unit in operation. The job can't be rushed, else there would be a terrific waste of the people's money as there has been under too many of our government bureaus. There are a great many facts that must be ascertained about each applicant, and this takes time.

We wish to commend the state officials for the prompt action that they took in response to the needs of the aged of Morgan county.

BIRDS NEED WATER
TOO THIS WEATHER

Bird life in the community is suffering from the lack of water. Observers have noticed that in seeking to quench their thirst, the birds are coming unusually near to homes, settling in flocks, in an exhausted condition under trees and on porches.

There are many bird baths on the lawn in the city but the water soon evaporates in the intense heat and it becomes very hot, even in the shade.
People who are lovers of birds will be amply repaid for arranging receptacles of water for them.

Jacksonville has been particularly fortunate in having many varieties of songsters. Their early morning chorus is a beautiful period at dawn but the extreme heat has driven many away.
Flocks of blackbirds and other varieties have migrated to Nichols park, the nearest body of water. The rain of last evening was not sufficient.

FIREMEN ANSWER CALL

uished with but slight damage.

FARMER'S OPINIONS ON CORN ARE CONFLICTING

Bascom Kennett, who operates a farm five miles northeast of Jacksonville, reported yesterday that he still had hopes for the corn crop in that vicinity. Mr. Kennett brought in an ear of corn seven and a half inches long which he tore off a stalk of corn growing in his field. It was well filled with little kernels, and Mr. Kennett expressed the belief that if we could get a little more rain, the corn would develop into fairly good ears.

Elbert Brazel, well known farmer of crop was almost totally burned out.

May Grand Jury Is Recalled To Hear Evidence Of State

Will Meet This Morning
To Hear Cases; Nine
Persons In Jail

Grand jurors of the May term of court, who were excused subject to recall late in April, have been recalled to hear additional evidence, according to an order entered in the Circuit Court record book by Judge Walter W. Wright.

The grand jurors have been called to convene this morning at nine o'clock. The order, as usual, did not state the matters to be considered at the sitting, but it is probable that the evidence compiled by the state's attorney's office against nine persons now being held in the county jail, will be presented.

The nine persons are being held in connection with the investigation of chicken thefts throughout this county. They are George and Henry Thomas, Gerald Watkins, Robert Nunn, Eugene Graves, Hazel Estes, Eva Lash, Ruth Rouland, and Eulah McHatten. Grand jurors who were recalled are: John S. Killam, Pisgah; Edgar Spires, Nortonville; Roy Sims, and

Yanks Drub Tigers By Score Of 16-6

Detroit, July 28.—(AP)—The New York Yankees' "Murderers' Row," paced by Lou Gehrig's 31st homer, went on its biggest rampage in nearly three weeks today and walloped the Tigers 16 to 6.

Gehrig's homer, two doubles and a single; four singles by Tony Lazzeri; three each for Joe Di Maggio, Myril Hoag and Red Rolfe, and George Selig's four-bagger were outstanding in the 20 assorted hits the Yankees collected off Tommy Bridges, Vic Sorrell and Clarence Phillips to hold their nine-game American League lead.

A freak homer by Goose Goslin, on what should have been an ordinary outfield fly, featured the Tigers' attack, with which they clubbed Monte Pearson off the mound, only to fall afoul of Jimmy Murphy in his best performance since his return from a lengthy illness.

Di Maggio and Hoag, running after Goslin's fly to right center in the sixth, collided after the latter caught it. Both were knocked out, the ball rolling away, and before it could be recovered, Goslin circled the bases. Di Maggio remained in the game, but Hoag went to the showers with a minor hurt.

After Murphy came into the game in the middle of a three-run Tiger rally in the fourth, the Detroiters were unable to do any consistent hitting. He held them to three hits the rest of the way, striking out three batters and walking but one.

The Yankees failed to score only in the third, sixth and eighth frames, but made up for that by shoving across four runs in each of the first two innings, and three each in the fourth and fifth.

Albyn Ketner and Joe Doyle To Play For Park Golf Title Sunday in 36 Hole Contest

Joe Doyle, Little 19 champion, and Albyn Ketner, high school graduate of last spring, will meet in the 36 hole championship match this Sunday at the Nichols Park golf course in the final round of the park golf tournament.

Doyle, who led the Illinois College team to a tie for conference championship, and who turned in a sub-par score to capture the individual championship this spring, defeated Pat Milburn, former city champion, 4 up 3 in his semi-final match to get the right to meet Ketner, who turned back Bud Schumm 3 up 2 in the other semi-final.

The championship match, scheduled to get underway Sunday morning at nine o'clock, will name a park champion to meet the champion of the Country Club later on this year, for the city championship.

Both boys have served terms as caddies, but this is the first time they have been in the championship round of a tournament. A tight match is forecast.

Close Scores Rule
Semi-final round of the tournament. Paul Mitchell defeated Charles Wolke one up in the upper bracket of the consolation tournament, and Bud Lair came through with a one up victory in 19 holes over Paul Cooney in the lower bracket. The two winners will meet for the championship of the consolation tournament also over a 36 hole route Sunday.

One other extra hole match resulted when Sid Armstrong nosed out Abe Stone in the second flight semi-final. F. P. Fawcner became the challenger to Armstrong's second flight championship when he defeated White 3 up 2 in the other semi-final.

Fairways at the park have burned up under the sizzling temperatures and dry weather, but the greens are holding up well. The result is long drives with considerable roll, and an encouraging putting surface.

FAN BREEZES By Ernest Savage

Congratulations to Willis Munger, Illinois College's dynamic little guard who made the all-star grade this year.

Munger's selection is the second to be made from the Little 19 conference in the last two years, and if this business of picking at least one man out of the league for the all-star team continues, it will stamp the conference as one of the toughest among the smaller colleges.

We were somewhat surprised to find that "Spike" Wilson, McKendree's great running back, didn't make a better showing. However, Wilson is all signed up with a professional team, and probably didn't care very much whether he made the all-stars.

All that happened while we were up in the Black Hills, learning a bit about the geology of those famous hills. Despite the fact that the season has been dry out that way, there were a few streams still running, and a couple lakes that had fish in them.

We heard one of the best fish stories of recent years while chinning with one of the boys who fishes the streams out there a lot. He told us that he spotted a big trout in a stream, tossed his fly, and that the fish took it, and then set about battling the sleek speedster.

The fish broke off his leader where it was fastened to the line, and made his escape. Convinced that his tackle had gone the way of a lot of precious flies and leaders, the fisherman went on his way up the stream.

Returning about an hour later, he spotted the leader trailing out from a friendly bank. He played a hunch, and cautiously crept up to the bank, grasped the leader, and pulled out the fish. Anyhow, it's a story about the big fish that didn't get away.

Linemen predominate in the list of captains in the Illinois Intercollegiate conference this year. In a number of instances, co-captains have been named by the various schools.

The leaders chosen are: Illinois Wesleyan—Joe Yurici, tackle, and Leroy Kaska, fullback. State Normal—William Moore, guard. Carthage—Peter Hanson, center. McKendree—Wallace Blackburn, tackle. Millikin—William Giratis, end. Illinois—Vernon Ford, guard and Ray Smith, halfback. Western State—Ray Lemanski, guard and Lee Walker, end. Elmhurst—Frank Vertovec, end. Wheaton—Doug Johnston, tackle. Southern—Otis Smith, tackle and Dale Hill, quarterback. Eureka—Jay Tomb, fullback and Frank Perchioti, quarterback. Augustana—Sam Oakleaf, tackle. North Central—Jim Thumley, and Herb Heilman, halfback.

John Mitchell, former J.H.S. coach who has been out in California teaching for some time, arrived in the city Monday afternoon after a torrid trip across Nebraska. Running for three days through temperatures running up as high as 117 degrees, Mitchell found the going extremely tough.

Pulling a cabin trailer, Mitchell almost gave up at one stage of the journey when it seemed that the weather would not moderate enough to allow him to continue the trip. However, cooler weather came along just in time, and he wheeled across the torrid zone quickly.

Mitchell reported that he did not encounter any trouble with the heat until he pulled out of the Rocky mountains. From there on it was a battle almost every mile of the way.

White Sox Crack Down on Athletics With 19 to 6 Win

Chicago, July 28.—(AP)—The Chicago White Sox ended their four-game losing streak with a bang today by pounding Carl Doyle and Stewart Fly for 20 hits and a 19 to 6 victory over the Philadelphia Athletics. The triumph evened the series at one game each.

Bill Dietrich, bespectacled right-hander who gave ten hits in making his first start as a Chicagoan, himself led the attack on his ex-mates with four singles. Luke Appling and Mike Kreevich each got three singles, while every other member of the Sox starting lineup got at least one.

The Sox got 16 hits and a 15 to 2 lead off Doyle before Connie Mack finally excused him in the fifth.

It was Dietrich's fifth American League victory of the season.

Pirates Take 9-3 Win From Dodgers

Brooklyn, July 28.—(AP)—The Pittsburgh Pirates finally snapped their losing streak of three-straight to the Dodgers by coming through with a ten-inning, 9 to 3 decision in the series finale today, after the Brooklyn Dodgers had tied the game with two runs in the eighth frame.

The winning run was scored on Rookie Eddie Wilson's error on Bill Brubaker's fly, allowing Gus Suhr to cross the plate. Suhr scored four of the Pirates runs, and led the attack with a double and two singles.

Max Bucher's wildness in the fourth, when he walked six Pirate batters, enabled the Bucs to score three runs in that frame without a hit. Ed Brandt, who relieved him, and Red Lucas, who took over the Pirate mound duties in the eighth, were the losing and winning pitchers, respectively.

Rookie Jimmy Jordan hit the first homer of his Major League career, during the Dodgers' three-run rally in the fifth.

SOY BEAN LAUGHS AT DROUTH, HEAT
Seems to be Getting Along Quite Well, Thank You

Teased by spotty rains, encouraged by cooler weather, Illinois farmers have twisted the old nursery rhyme into "Rain, rain, come again. Go away some other day." The experiment is bringing results in greater farmer optimism, reports the Illinois Agricultural Association.

In face of apprehension, the hardy, consistent soybean exhibitor all the qualities of a camel. Thumbing its nose at chinch bugs, getting along famously, thank you, despite blasting heat and lack of rain, the performance of this major Illinois crop is bringing smiles to Illinois growers.

The staying qualities of the soybean plant parallel the performances of the bean in its most publicized field—paint. Possibly the same toughness found in the plant is handed on to the oil from the bean. Paint manufacturers are beginning to think so at least. Tests indicate that the combination of one-third refined soy oil and two-thirds high quality linseed oil in conjunction with lead, makes a tougher, longer lasting paint.

Where the farmer profits from such a discovery is that in recent years much of the linseed oil used in paint has been made from imported flaxseed. Reducing imports by one-third makes a pretty nice market for soybean growers to shoot at. This is especially true when recent figures show that around a half million gallons of soy oil paint has been placed on Illinois buildings in the last few years. As farmers realize that they can improve the market for their soybeans by using more soy oil paint, more and more will come to use it exclusively to beautify and preserve their buildings. And, no matter how it is interpreted, that can't make for anything else but more money in the pockets of Illinois farmers.

Investment Bonds Attract Buyers

Business Reports Continue To Favor Market

New York, July 28.—(P)—Investment bonds, including the treasury list continued to attract buyers in the listed market today, while low-priced corporate issues held to a narrow range with the undertone steady.

Announcement before the opening that the average discount rate on current 9 month treasury bills was 0.224 per cent, compared with 0.115 percent in the previous week, had little effect on the government list. Early demand lifted the majority of direct obligations 1-32 to 4-32 of a point and the list held the advantage until the close.

In the corporate division, carrier bonds provided the larger part of an expanded volume. Both low-priced and higher grade issues were in good demand, particularly those with convertible features. Carloadings and earnings reports continued to favor

FARM AND RURAL INTEREST

Introducing a New Feature of The Journal; Farm Women Have Hard Time Finding Fruit for Jellies; Grasshoppers Destroy Corn.

Editor's Note:—This is an introduction to a column which will appear in the Jacksonville Journal. It will be devoted to news of special interest to the farming community. Crop reports and other agricultural information gleaned from farmers in this area will be published as well as news items of national scope. The farm women will have their interests aired in this column also. It will provide a place where they may exchange their favorite recipes and where they can find useful tips on such familiar things as canning and housework. The column will be open at all times for contribution and suggestions. Simply address them—"Farm Editor," Jacksonville Daily Journal.

The women who followed the series of articles which appeared in the Journal last week on the art of making jelly thought that the articles were very fine, but they are having an awful time trying to find something to make jelly out of. The usual blackberries, raspberries, and other fruits just aren't to be had.

A Bit of Advice.
To aid farmers who don't know what to feed their stock now that the drouth has burned up the pastures and dried up the ordinary feed, a McLean county farmer, S. B. Mason, comes forth with the suggestion that farmers lacking pasture should feed green corn to their horses and cattle, beginning with a small allowance and increasing it. He said that one may find many stalks now that will produce little or no grain, but that will make valuable feed for livestock, which should not be allowed to suffer too much for lack of enough feed. Too much dry stuff may not be too good for them.

Pleased With Grain Yield.
The farm officials at the Jacksonville State Hospital are pleased with their wheat, oat and bean yields this year, but report that the corn will be very light. The State Hospital, however, has an advantage over most farmers around here because they can use their silos and make ensilage out of the corn.

The wheat has averaged between twenty and thirty bushels to the acre in this territory, and some localities have reported a good clover crop.

No Kernels on Corn.
Frank Hembrough of the Asbury neighborhood was in Jacksonville yesterday and said that he could go out into his corn field, pull back the husks, and find nothing but a cob, the scorching hot wind having prevented the formation of kernels on the ears.

Tom McGinnis, who operates a farm south of Arnold, has been bothered by a horde of grasshoppers in his corn field. McGinnis said yesterday that the "hoppers had stripped all the

Realizing Sales Jolt Stock Mart

Earnings Reports Bolster Several Issues

New York, July 28.—(P)—The stock market was jolted by profit taking today but it kept its balance with the aid of buying support for a wide assortment of specialties.

Economic news was still of a highly encouraging character marketwise and earnings and dividend announcements brought a number of shares into the limelight for substantial gains.

At the same time, traders appeared a bit nervous because the recovery in equities has extended over a considerable space with only minor interruptions. Consequently selling was inspired in some quarters on the expectation of a technical reaction and hopes that favorites could be repurchased at lower levels.

Selected building, farm implement, aviation, rail and utility issues gave a satisfactory account of themselves in the face of backsliding tendencies elsewhere.

An afternoon flurry in the steels lasted but briefly and the motors worked under handicaps from the start.

U. S. Steel preferred was up 1/4 to 132, but the common held unchanged at 67 1/2. The Steel board late in the day boosted the dividend on preferred accumulations to $1 against 50 cents voted in each similar period since February, 1933.

The Steel Corporation sounded a cheering note by disclosing it had earned approximately 75 cents a common share in the second quarter, the first net for the junior issue since the second three months of 1931.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks was unchanged at 68.6. Transfers totaled 1,903,470 shares compared with 1,826,280 yesterday. Today's aggregate was the largest since the middle of the month.

Hog Prices Equal Year's High Mark

Wholesale Prices Hold Steady With No Change

Chicago, July 28.—(P)—Hog prices advanced 10 cents today to the year's peak, top sales at $11.20 per hundred-weight equalling the previous high reached on February 18, highest since October, 1935.

Due, however, to the wider spread between choice light hogs and heavy offerings, average cost was well below the highest level of 1936. Improved eastern demand for dressed pork and moderate fresh supplies of swine accounted for the strong to 10 cents higher market in better grade hogs averaging less than 250 pounds.

The bulk of fresh cattle supply consisted largely of fat slaughter beef. Light cattle brought steady prices but medium weight and weighty steers and long yearlings ruled weak to 15 cents lower. The cattle market top was $9.40. Heifers were fully steady with best offerings making $9. Better grade fat lambs ruled steady but others were weak.

CONDITIONED

The sham battle of odors that occurs in most so-called modern refrigerators just doesn't happen in the new Air Conditioned ICE Refrigerator. The cantaloupe, the butter, the fish and the salad dressing retain their original flavors just as if each were alone in the refrigerator. This is why: The FRESH — MOIST — CIRCULATING air in this new type refrigerator washes all surplus odors down the drain instead of back into other foods. Just one month with this new refrigerator on the job will convince you it's the last word in modern food protection. See the latest models on display today at . . .

So Much for Love

By NARD JONES

NEA Service Inc.

BEGIN HERE TODAY

HELENA DERRIK, youthful head of the women's sports department of Helvig's store, goes on a week-end party at Great Mountain Lodge. There she meets handsome PETER HENDERSON. It is a case of love at first sight between them. Peter asks Helena to marry him, and the ceremony takes place.

Later the crowd goes swimming. Peter makes a reckless dive and is seriously injured. Linger between life and death, he asks Helena to summon his lawyer, JOHN COURTNEY.

Courtney arrives and a short time later Peter dies. Helena learns she is sole heir to a large fortune, including the Henderson department store. She takes beautiful LEAH FRAZIER, who had expected to marry Peter and realizes Leah is an enemy. Peter's uncle, ROGER BARNES, manager of the store, is also hostile.

Helena decides to take over management of the store. JOHN COURTNEY, banker, and Courtney are her allies. Lassiter takes Helena to the Sunshine Club ball where Leah Frazier and her mother snub her. Later Lassiter breaks an engagement with Helena and she thinks this is due to the Fraziers' influence.

Helena works late one night. HARVEY JAMESON, in charge of the hardware department, asks her to see a movie.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY CHAPTER XI

SITTING beside Harvey Jameson in the semi-darkness of the movie theater, Helena could not help thinking how different his attitude was from that of the Fraziers and their friends.

"He's honest . . . and real," she thought, wholly unconcerned with the story unfolding on the screen.

She was startled from her thoughts as Harvey Jameson said, "Well, how'd you like it?"

"Why . . . To her surprise, the picture was ended. The lights in the little theater had gone up, and the velvet curtain had swung across the screen to mark the brief intermission before the next showing of the film. "Why, it was awfully good!"

When they emerged from the motion picture theater the principal street of the town was almost deserted.

"I suppose," Harvey Jameson ventured, as if reading her thoughts, "that you find our little town pretty quiet."

"That's to its advantage, isn't it?" Helena said.

"Well," Jameson confessed, "I sort of like it. I've been in the bigger cities and some of my friends have gone there to live. But I think we have just as much fun and happiness—and maybe on a lot less money." He looked down at her solicitously. "But we do have taxis. I imagine you're tired after such a long day at the store."

Helena shook her head. "I'm not, really. And it's so delightfully cool tonight. Please let's walk to the apartment."

THEY turned off the main street and were quickly out of the

CATTLEMEN TO AIR DROUGHT PROBLEMS AT STATE MEETING

Urbana, Ill., July 28.—With the drought affecting pastures and feed supplies and bringing new problems before the attention of beef cattle feeders of the state, a record attendance is expected at the ninth annual Illinois cattle feeders' meeting, Friday, July 31, at the College of Agriculture, University of Illinois. H. P. Rusk, head of the animal husbandry department, announced.

Besides hearing authoritative discussions on market outlook and prospective feed supplies, visitors at this year's meeting will have an opportunity to inspect more than 250 head of experimental cattle, no two lots of which have been fed exactly the same way, Rusk explained. Because of the large number of cattle on experiment, he advises visitors who wish to inspect the lots on pasture to come early enough to see them before the main program begins, since it will not be possible to assemble all lots at the central feeding plant.

Opening at 9 o'clock with an inspection of experimental cattle, the morning session will be at the University farm. Dry-lot steer feeding experiments will be reported by R. R. Snapp, associate professor of beef cattle husbandry, with Rusk reporting on pasture feeding experiments. W. L. Burlison, head of the agronomy department of the college, will close the morning program with some seasonal observations on pastures.

A box lunch is planned for the visitors at the stock pavilion where the afternoon program will open with a discussion on marketing emergencies by R. J. Gramlich, head of the department of animal husbandry, College of Agriculture, University of Nebraska. C. B. Denman, president of the National Livestock Marketing Association, Chicago, will talk on the market outlook for fat cattle, and Phil Evans, of the Kansas City Livestock Producers Association, will present the outlook for stocker and feeder cattle. Prospective feed supplies will be discussed by A. J. Surratt, agricultural statistician, of the federal Department of Agriculture, Springfield.

Increase Raccoon Population on Farm Near Jerseyville

Jerseyville, July 28.—Raising raccoons in conjunction with large number of ducks, geese and chickens is a side line for Mrs. Oscar Groppe and her nine year old son Truman, who reside on a farm in the Rosedale vicinity, in western Jersey county.

Two years ago, Mrs. Groppe bought two females from a breeder of the animals in Nebraska, and from this beginning the coon population at the Groppe farm has increased to a total of seventeen. The three females last spring gave birth to litters of five each and practically all of the animals have survived.

The coons are housed in a shed fifteen by twenty feet in dimension, and the interior is built to provide separate cages of the animals if necessary. Screened windows afford plenty of light and ventilation. One of these windows is the chief concentration point of the animals within the building. When a car or wagon approaches the Groppe home by way of a private road through the fields, the coons exhibit a natural curiosity by immediately gathering in a group before the window where they may view the approach of the car or team.

Truman Groppe is the chief tender of the animals, and several of the coons have become quite tame. One coon, "John Coon," is the friend and playmate of the boy. So tame has the animal become that he may be released in the door yard of the Groppe place to climb among the trees. But he is always ready to return at the call of his young keeper or when something good to eat is being offered.

The chief bill of fare for the animal is the flesh of ground hogs. The latter species constitute a serious pest to the farmers of the Rosedale vicinity, and have furnished an available food supply for the Groppe coons.

Hold Rites Today For James Butcher

Services For Victim Of River Tragedy To Be At 2:30 p. m.

The body of James Butcher, second Beardstown river tragedy victim of the year, was returned here Monday to the Gillham Funeral Home, where funeral services will be held this afternoon at 2:30 o'clock in charge of the Rev. Ward, pastor of the Church of God.

Physicians at Beardstown have advanced the theory that Butcher suffered a heart attack while he waded through the cold water of the beach. They pointed out that Butcher's body probably was heated by the cold water and that the shock of the cold water was too much for his heart.

Persons who were present at the scene of the drowning included Robert Williams, of this city; James Carnahan and Dale Rehn, who brought the body out of seven feet of water, Floyd Webster, Ben Carnahan and Gordon Eflaw, who also attempted to locate the body.

Alleging habitual drunkenness, Goldie I. Tribble yesterday filed suit for divorce in the Morgan county circuit court, and asked the court to grant her the custody of their two year old child.

The bill states that the couple was married here July 5, 1930, and lived together until Jan. 8, 1935. Carl E. Robinson is the attorney for the plaintiff.

Elijah Bacon, 80, Takes Life Tuesday At Murrayville

Ill Health Blamed For Act Early Yesterday; Was Well-known

Murrayville—Elijah Bacon, 80 year old retired farmer and highly respected citizen of this community, took his own life here yesterday morning at 5 o'clock. Ill health was given as the cause of his act.

Mr. Bacon was the father of Miss Arsh Bacon, Red Cross nurse who was murdered in October, 1925, in Chicago. He arose early yesterday morning according to his wife, went to a cubbed near the home and fired a revolver bullet into his head. Death appeared to have been instantaneous.

Mrs. Bacon, who arose at six o'clock, an hour after her husband had left the room, discovered the body in the shed. She immediately summoned help, but life was extinct.

Mr. Bacon was a life-long resident of the Murrayville community, operating a farm about a mile southeast of the city for many years. He retired from active farming several years ago and since that time has made his home in this city. He has been in failing health for some time and not long ago expressed to friends his intention of taking his own life.

Mrs. Bacon was unable to account for the appearance of the revolver. It apparently had been concealed about the premises for a short time, unknown to her.

Mr. Bacon is survived by his wife and two children, William, who resides on the home farm southeast of the city, and Lonnie, who is operating a farm in the Waverly community.

Coroner E. O. Sample called a coroner's jury, consisting of J. L. Wyatt, foreman, Isaac Smock, O. H. Angelo, R. D. Mawson, William Strawn, and Fred Simpson. The jury stated that Mr. Bacon came to his death as the result of a "self-inflicted gunshot wound which entered the head over the right ear, passing through the head, and coming out over the left ear."

Funeral services will be held Thursday morning at 10 o'clock from the Thompson Funeral home. Rev. J. A. Biddle of Franklin will be in charge, assisted by Rev. C. W. Gant.
